Overview

 Examine how Women's Health West conceptualises the social determinants of women's sexual and reproductive health in a Victorian context

Explore the Sexual and Reproductive Health Promotion Framework 2012, which is a conceptual evidence-based guide for women's sexual and reproductive health promotion planning

Women's Health West

Feminist women's health service for Melbourne's western metropolitan region

Our work is informed by three conceptual frameworks:

- health promotion
- community development
- a gender equity approach

Action for Equity: A sexual and reproductive health plan for Melbourne's west 2013-2017

Objective 1: Increase access to affordable contraceptives and fertility management services

Strategies	<ul> <li>Advocate to the federal government that new-generation contraceptives are funded through the Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme</li> <li>Undertake an advocacy strategy informed by women's qualitative narratives to increase access to publicly funded surgical terminations</li> <li>In partnership with Medicare locals, community health and local general practitioners, advocate for the roll out of medical abortion to ensure that there are two providers in each of the west's seven local government areas</li> <li>Ensure Action for Equity is strategically linked to Preventing Violence Together: Western Region Action Plan to Prevent Violence Against Women to support the prevention of violence against women.</li> </ul>

Objective 2: Advocate for systemic and legislative reform that promotes equity, social inclusion and sexual and reproductive health rights

Strategies	<ul> <li>Mobilise the seven local governments in the west to identify sexual and reproductive health as a health priority within their municipal public health plans or other council policies</li> <li>Advocate for law reform that upholds and protects sexual and reproductive health rights, including marriage equality and safeguards against forced sterilisation of women with a disability.</li> </ul>
